Businessmen Form Chamber in Orinda

Orinda now has a Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the Orinda Better Business Association have voted to change their group's name to Orinda Chamber of Commerce.

The action was taken at the association's meeting Monday night at Stanley Allen's office at Orinda Crossroads.

The change in name has been advocated by members for more than a year. The group is not a better business association, since it does no policing of business and is actually devoted to betterment of the community of Orinda as a whole and the business district in particular, according to Fred von Guenthner, president.

AFFILIATION DEFERRED

Action to affiliate with the United States Chamber of Commerce is being held in abeyance.

Members also voted to add four new members to the board of directors, which now includes three officers and two board members. Purpose is to establish a strong nine-man board of directors to govern the organization.

In the past the membership as a whole at general membership meetings decided policies. This proved awkward due to the usual small attendance at meetings, according to von Guenthner.

NOMINATING COMMITTEE

A nominating committee was set up composed of Stanley Allen, E. W. Phair, John Stoffel, Vance Reynolds and von Guenthner.

A general meeting and election will be held at 8 p.m. May 8, with location tentatively scheduled for the Orinda Grammar School.

The association president, Fred von Guenthner, urges all former and present members and all business and professional men new to Orinda to attend.

Bill Duncan and Al Eberlin were appointed to visit newcomers and urge their attendance.

Camp Fire Girls Plan Breakfast

An Orinda Camp Fire group was founded about two months ago with Mrs. Everett Dempster acting as guardian. Girls from the seventh and eighth grades are enjoying especially the nature study trips with Mrs. Dempster, an authority on the subject. The group meets every Saturday, usually at noon, but on April 29 they plan to have a breakfast meeting at the barbecue and picnic place at Patty Lou Smith's home. The girls are hoping before long to earn "Trail Seeker" rank.

Rainbow Girls Attend Services

Fifty members of the Walnut Creek Assembly of Rainbow Girls, with their counsellors, attended the worship service of Orinda Community Church last Sunday morning.

In greeting the group Rev. Fred R. Morrow, minister of the Orinda church, spoke of the promise embodied in Genesis 9: 12-3, "Behold I do set my bow in the clouds . . ." as the covenant of an orderly universe, and went on to an exposition of the New Testament promise of "The Abiding Presence." Mysticism and service he said are the twin pathways to the conviction of Christ's continuing presence.

Lyn Van Deventer made arrangements for the attendance of the assembly.

Orinda Scouts Join Explorers

Robert Harrison and Dave Hupp shared the honor in Orinda of being selected with 98 other Explorer Scouts from northern California to attend a seven-day encampment at McClelan Field in Sacramento from April 1 through 7. The encampment was sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America and McClellan Field and was a wonderful experience for all who attended.

The boys slept in barracks and observed such demonstrations as fire control, training for desert, Arctic and jungle warfare and were given a choice of subjects to study. Dave Hupp concentrated on the study of weather conditions and forecasting and Bob Harrison types of aircraft and plane crew training.

Anyway It Didn't Snow This Week

It was very cool in Orinda on Tuesday, the local weather bureau informs us. But before we could splutter and vehemently question his reasoning, he added the information that it was cool, at 5 a.m. Before the day was over the mercury had burbled and jumped it way to 85 degrees. There was lots of moisture, but it wasn't rain! Low temperature for the week of April 11 to 18 was 32 degrees charted on the 14th.

If you can classify .08 inches of moisture as rain, it rained, bringing the seasonal total to 26.84 inches.

Orinda Schools to Hold Open House

Next week — April 24 to 28 — is Public School Week. During that time the public is cordially invited to visit Orinda and Glorietta Schools to see the work being done by the children. Special open house is being planned at Orinda School Tuesday, and at Glorietta School Wednesday, from 7:30 to 9:00.

At this time faculty members will be in their classrooms and the children's work will be on display. Parents are urged to bring their children so they may introduce their mothers and fathers to their teachers.

Refreshments will be served during both evenings. Hostesses at Orinda School will be the mothers of the two second grades, Mrs. Ritchie Smith and Mrs. James Freeman, co-chairmen. Hostesses at Glorietta School will be mothers of the first grade, Mrs. Anthony Cianciarulo, chairman.

Seniors Present Comedy Tonight

Tonight an audience will be enlightened on the multitudinous comedy situations which involve a mother and daughter, both enrolled as classmates at college, when Acalanes High School seniors present the class play, "Mother Is a Freshman."

Richard Nesbitt is director of the laughter-provoking comedy which will begin to unfold at its 8 p.m. curtain time.

Included in the cast are Beverly du Pee as Abigail Fortitude Abbott; Laura Castelnuovo as the daughter, Susan; Joan Neiman, Barbara Sondag, Arlyss McFetridge, Le Anne Court, Joanne Randall, Jackie Swanson, Marcia Eggerts, Bill Hampton, Bob Sondag, Lee Bates and Fred Read.

Music before and between acts will be furnished by the school band, under direction of Oscar Busch.

Open House at Acalanes Monday

Sponsored jointly by Acalanes High School and the Parents' Club, a special Public Schools Week program has been arranged for Monday night, 8 p.m., at the high school.

An open meeting held by Parents' Club will be followed by student entertainment planned to include a band concert, a modern dance based on American folk music by Burl Ives, presentation by the boys' glee club and visits to the classrooms.

Worden Asks for Telegraph Office

Full Western Union service for Orinda has been requested by Worden's Travel Agency. The Orinda agency has served as a receiving station for outgoing telegrams for the past three years.

This week Bill Worden, operator of the agency, made further request for the full service in a letter to R. D. Saylor, Western Union district superintendent in San Francisco.

In his letter Worden said:

"We note that a petition has been presented by residents of Lafayette to establish a Western Union office in that area.

As reiterated to R. T. Lamb by phone this date we have been seeking a "sending" Western Union office in Orinda for the past three years. Western Union representatives have promised that consideration would be given to this office for establishment of a full service as soon as we obtained a downstairs location.

"In December 1949 we informed you that such a location had been obtained, and your representative came out, inspected our office, delivered new signs, etc.

"We are ready, willing, and anxious to cooperate with you on this project. We have transportation facilities and personnel available to handle personal delivery of unphoned messages. We believe that your leased wire service will be cheaper to Orinda than to Lafayette. We feel that we can adequately serve both areas.

Consideration is respectfully considered as we have faithfully plugged along for three years serving Western Union clients to the best of our ability with the hope that our original agreement would someday materialize."

Mothers Club Donates Books

Many new books will soon be available to the children of Orinda and Glorietta Schools through their school libraries. These additions to the libraries are the result of the Mothers Club book sale held at Orinda School at the end of last year under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. D. North.

The sale netted $130 and books amounting to that figure were recently purchased by a book procurement committee which included Miss Mary Siefker, member of Glorietta School faculty, Mrs. Ruth Lamborn, member of Orinda School faculty, and Mrs. Donald Krotz, Mothers Club president. Books for the sale, as well as those purchased from its proceeds were furnished by the Wold Book Shop of Oakland.

Selection of books for the libraries was made from requests received from faculty members, and cover all ages of grammar school children. Miss Bergamini, school librarian, is now adding the books to the card file system and will soon have them ready for the children to read.

"Quizmo," the mathematical games books which sell in a combination of two for $1.35, are still available. Those who wish them may secure them from Mrs. Donald Krotz, Orinda 2045.

Wednesday evening saw J. W. Rupley, Albert A. Normand and Austin Little accompanied by other members of the scenic effects crew, meeting with Miss Pembroke at Acalanes, to discuss sets and lighting.

Three Precincts Added in Orinda

Population growth of Orinda has brought about creation of three more precincts for the area.

County Clerk Walter T. Paasch has carved out three new precincts to take care of heavy registrations in Precincts 2, 5 and 6. This brings a total of nine precincts for Orinda.

Sleepy Hollow and Orinda Upland sections, previously in Precinct 2, will be in new Precinct 7.

The new precinct 8 will start on Glorietta Boulevard at the Thompson property and will take in Valley Drive, starting at the Thompson property, and from there will run northeasterly on both side of Glorietta Boulevard up to the East Bay Municipal Utility District boundary. It will include Irvine Drive and Rheem Boulevard.

Registration for Precinct 6 at last November's election was 467. Registration in Precinct 5 was 303. There were 381 voters from Precinct 2.

Bus Rate Hearing Set for Wednesday

Hearing on Pacific Greyhound's request for increases in commuter fares from Contra Costa County to Oakland, Berkeley and San Francisco will be resumed Wednesday by the Public Utilities Commission.

In preparation for the hearing John McKirahan, secretary for the Contra Costa Commuter's Association which is fighting the rate increase request, issued another call for letters of support from local civic organizations.

"The more people who are present at the hearing to protest, the stronger our case will be" McKirahan said. If it is impossible to attend the Public Utilities Commission will recognize letters of proxy given to the commuters' association," McKirahan said.

At previous hearings on the rate increase bus company officials testified the firm is now losing $80,000 a year on operations in Contra Costa County.

The officials also said that increased fares requested at the present time would only cut losses by $7,000 a year and that further increases in the area are likely.

Pack 52 Cubs Judge Handicraft

The monthly meeting of Orinda Cub Pack 52 was opened with impressive ritual last Friday night when each den with its banner marched into Orinda School auditorium as an escort to the American flag.

Judging of handicraft done by the cubs in their weekly den meetings was a feature of the meeting, with Floyd Blaney winning an award for his knot board, Jim Thurlow for the holster he made and the Ready brothers for the shell jewelry they had fashioned.

Baseball, which is the activity uppermost in the boys' minds at present, was discussed by Joe De Maria who spoke about the team and outlined the season schedule for the pack.

The campfire ritual was supervised by Ken Hauter who was assisted by Raymond West, athletic trainer at St. Mary's, who also commanded special interest because he is a ful-blooded Cheyenne Indian. In honor of the occasion, the cubs brought blankets to wrap around their shoulders in traditional Indian style as additional background color for the campfire ceremony.

Attendance award for the meeting was given to Den 7.

The entire pack will make a field trip to Treasure Island Sunday at 1 p.m., according to Bob Anthonisen. Cubs are to call their Den Mothers or Mel Arighi to arrange for attendance on the tour which will have the assistant supervision of a group of Dads.

The meeting was concluded with the serving of cookies and cider.

Carol Ann Walker Has Fourth Birthday Party

Carol Ann Walker, daughter of the Robert Walkers of Katrino Court, was four last Saturday.

On hand to help her celebrate with a party were Betsy Ann Kilbourn, Carol Kramer, Julie Henderson, Janie Seaman, and Jeffrey Lincoln.

Phone Rate Hike Would Affect Orinda

Here's how Orinda telephone users will be affected by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph's request for rate increases throughout the state, if the request is granted.

Extended service rates, which will soon be applied to all Orinda telephones under a ruling last year by the Public Utilities Commission, will be raised from 25 to 40 cents monthly, depending on the type of telephone, according to W. E. Saunders, telephone manager for the Orinda area.

Business telephones with an individual message rate will be increased from $5.25 to $5.50.

Residence phones will be on a sliding scale. Residence individual flat rate will go from $4.75 to $5.00. Two party flat-rate phones will jump 35 cents from $3.65 to $4.00. Two-party message rate phones will be increased from $2.80 to $3.25 monthly.

In addition charges for extension phones will be increased 25 cents a month for each additional telephone.

Biggest jump will be the 100 per cent increase in local coin box calls. The price, under the telephone company's plan would double from the present nickel to a dime.

The only break in favor of the telephone user would come in toll calls within a 20-mile radius. These rates will be reduced approximately 25 per cent under the telephone company's proposal.

Local Post Office Status Unchanged

Mail service from the Lafayette and Orinda post offices will not be affected by the curtailment orders issued by the U. S. Postmaster General this week.

Mrs. Ben Mallary, Orinda postmaster, told the SUN yesterday that all information received by her office concerning the curtailment indicated the cuts would not extend to Orinda.

"In the past we have received immediate notice when national Post Office policy changes affect our work," Mrs. Mallary said.

At the Lafayette Post Office workers said they had received no notice to reduce operations. The postmaster, Miss Amelia Schutt, is on vacation and could not be reached for comment.

Youngster Cut By Door Glass

Billy Schwarck, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schwarck, Via Hermosa, suffered severe injury to his left arm when he fell through a glass window at his home Monday evening.

He returned to his home Tuesday after a one-night stay in Herrick Memorial Hospital where several stitches were taken in his arm.

Dinner Held by Club Directors

Members of Mothers Club Board of Directors and their husbands joined in a progressive dinner last Saturday evening.

Everyone got acquainted during the cocktail course which was held at the home of the Jack Moylans on El Gavilan. Proceeding from there to the Roger Starks' on Manzanita Drive, the party was served a delicious barbecue entree course which they enjoyed in the patio. The Seaver Ballards' home was the setting for dessert and the evening was completed with cards and dancing at the Charles Coburns' on Hacienda Circle.

Present were Messrs. and Mesdames Donald Krotz, Fred von Guenthner, Stanley Allen, Arthur Henry, Joseph Sheaff, Robert Harrison, Jack Moylan, Seaver Ballard, Charles Coburn, William Brailsford, Kirk Miles, D. C. Peacock, Russell Gilwee, Dr. and Mrs. Roger Stark and Mesdames J. H. Schwarck and Wm. Courtright.

Orinda Cubs Trim Walnut Creek

A change in plans has scheduled the next committee meeting of Orinda Cub Pack 52 for May 15 at the home of Bob Anthonisen. The regular pack meeting will be held on May 26, according to Anthonisen.

Baseball is the big news in the cub pack now. Pack 52 team met Pack 43 of Walnut Creek at Glorietta School last Saturday for their first league game, with the local nine winning 12-11. The complete schedule for the season will be found elsewhere in this week's Sun.

Joe De Maria and Ken Huston are coaching the baseball players, with assistance from pack Dads, with an eye to keeping league honors in Orinda.

Lorrimers Given Surprise Housewarming

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Lorrimer were given a delightful house warming and surprise party in their new home 210 Moraga Highway on Friday evening, March 31. The friends were from Oakland, their former home, Alameda and Orinda. They presented the Lorrimers a handsome fire screen.

RETURN FROM TRIP

The T. Haleys of Via Hermosa returned recently from a ten day trip through Southern California.

Civic Group Urges Telephone Study

The Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association has recommended that the parent group forward a letter to the state Public Utilities Commission urging a careful study of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph's request for a rate increase before any consideration be given to rate increases.

The committee also recommended that the PUC investigate the possibility of improved telephone service for the Orinda area.

The actions were taken at Monday night's meeting at Orinda Grammar School.

The telephone company's plan to consolidate Orinda, Moraga, Lafayette, Walnut Creek and Concord into one telephone book with alphabetical listing was approved by the majority of members present.

Disturbance caused by loose manhole covers on sewer lines on Moraga Highway was discussed by the committee. It was brought out that noise from cars passing over the loose covers is keeping residents living on Moraga Highway awake at night.

Plans for another Town Meeting to be held before the end of the school year in late May or early June were discussed but no action was taken.

Marvin Bonds, association president, told the group that he believes that an engineer from the State Highway Department will be able to appear at the meeting to outline the state's specific future plans for the Crossroads.

Magic Fills Air At Lions Show

Magic was in the air at Acalanes High School auditorium last Saturday night when the much publicized Steve Juhasz Shepard, master of magical tricks and illusions and a troupe of talented performers, presented their Orinda Lions Club sponsored show.

The audience was enthralled by the feats exhibited with the aid of $12,000 worth of equipment and the cast's inimitable array of talent. Shepard was assisted by little Tommy Lord who presented his precocious routine of magic and juggling, Glenn Haywood, who is designated the "Wonder Boy of Magic and Ventriloquism," and proves it, Tom Lord, Geoff Ley and a clever cast of 13 other performers.

The show corroborated its advance notice of past successful performances.

Tommy Snow, chairman of arrangements for the program's appearance locally, revealed that proceeds are earmarked for the Orinda Lions Club community projects as a service club.

African Novel To Be Reviewed

The First Section of the Women's Guild will meet Thursday, May 11 at the home of Mrs. G. Chester Brown, 164 Orinda Highway. The cohostesses will be Mrs. Wesley Smith and Mrs. Ethel Lord Brady. Mrs. Fred Morrow will lead the devotions.

Mrs. John Dorr will give a book review of "Cry, the Beloved Country." This promises to be another of Mrs. Dorr's charming programs.

Cocktail Party Precedes Garden Show Opening

Orinda sponsors for "Pacifica," California Spring Garden Show which opens its doors to the public this morning, were joined by guests at a buffet supper at Orinda Country Club before attending the "sponsors' night" showing last night in Oakland.

Many of the group were hosts at cocktail parties preceding the club dinner festivities.

Report From Sacramento

By ASSEMBLYMAN ROBERT L. CONDON

This is the last of my reports from Sacramento on the doings of this year's Legislature. A short summary of what was done or undone would read: "Very little." The highlights are these:

SCHOOLS AND TAXES: Instead of $29,000,000 the schools ended up with $4,600,000 more than the $200,000,000 carried in the budget. The school people probably lost ground by tying their increased appropriation with the labor-opposed three-cent per package cigarette tax.

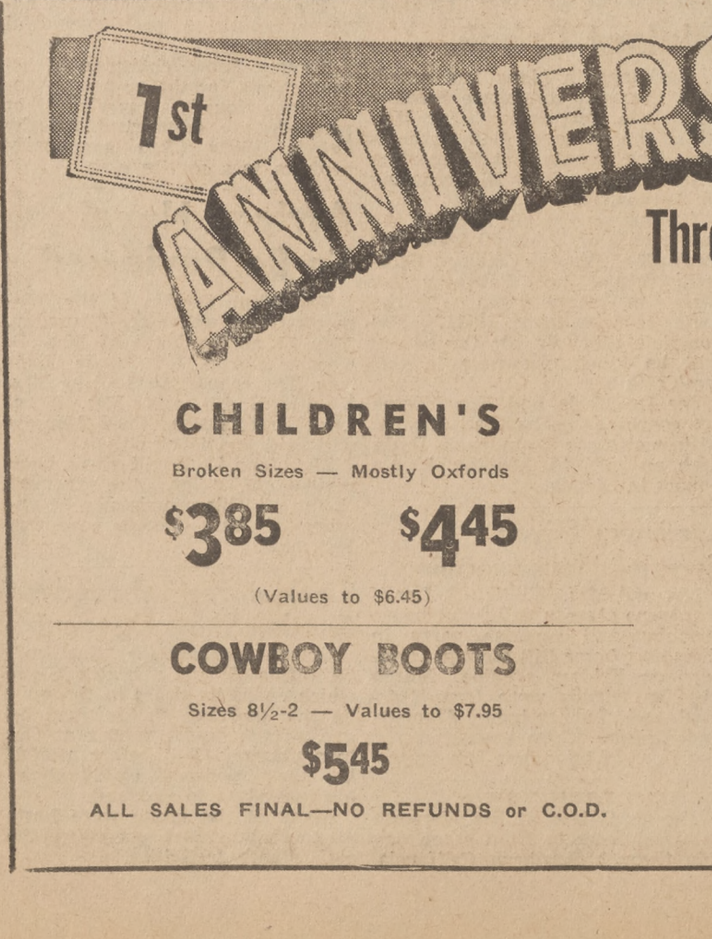
Although the next session may have to accept a tobacco tax, this year of elections was apparently not the time. The hatchet on both the school program and the tobacco tax was wielded in the Senate. The Assembly-approved bill was turned down in the upper house. Also lost on the test vote was the measure to give the counties approximately $15-million out of the tobacco tax.

CHILD CARE: The Child Care Centers obtained $3,000,000 to keep in operation until February 15, 1951. This was a compromise between those who would eliminate entirely the State-supported centers and those who wanted a one-year extension. One of the big fights in the early days of the '51 session will be a further continuance of the centers.

MISCELLANY: The bills to make illegal the mere possession of slot machines passed. At present the enforcement officers have to prove actual gambling before an offense can be proved . . . Labor obtained none of its legislative program. All measures relating to workmen's compensation, unemployment insurance and disability insurance were referred to the Assembly interim committee for further study . . . Several clarifying and strengthening amendments to the anti-lobbying law carried. It is predicted, however, that the lobbyists will still be around.

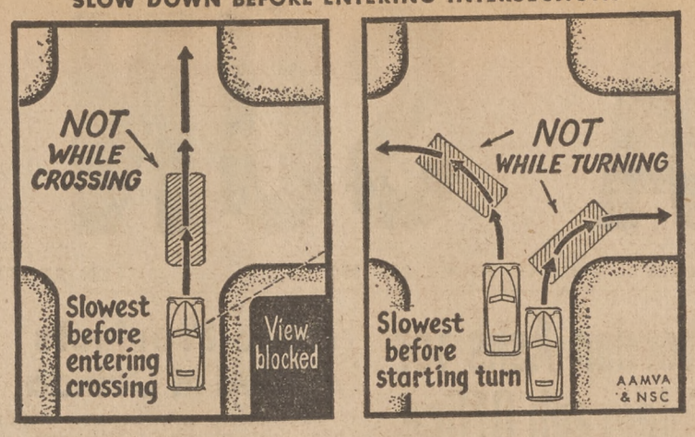
STRICTLY PERSONAL: As noted, this ends a series of weekly reports on the special and budget sessions of the Legislature this year. We were in session for six weeks, worked diligently, but because of political differences accomplished relatively little. I have enjoyed the opportunity of preparing these reports. I think that informing the people of this county on public affairs is one of the responsibilities of public office. If I am returned to the Assembly, I shall pick this series up in January of next year.

Pic-Tours of Europe



DENMARK HAS MADE THE HOME OF HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN IN ODENSE INTO A MUSEUM WHICH EVERY YEAR ATTRACTS THOUSANDS OF TOURISTS WHO FONDLY REMEMBER HIS "ONCE UPON A TIME" FAIRY TALES.
ANDERSEN, WHO WAS BORN IN 1805, WANTED TO GO ON THE STAGE. HE FAILED AT THAT, BUT WON WORLD-WIDE FAME WITH HIS WRITING.
PEOPLE WHO VISIT EUROPE DURING THE FALL AND WINTER TRAVEL IN GREATER COMFORT AND ENJOY THE PLEASURES OF EUROPEAN LIFE TO THE FULL BECAUSE ACCOMMODATIONS ARE LESS CROWDED THEN.
THE TOWER OF BELEM, FAMOUS LANDMARK OF PORTUGAL WAS BUILT IN 1520 TO PROTECT THE SHIPS WHICH BROUGHT TO LISBON THE SPICES AND JEWELS OF THE EAST. IT IS ONE OF MANY MONUMENTS, SOME DATING FROM ANCIENT TIMES, THAT REMIND VISITORS OF THE COUNTRY'S RICH STORE OF LEGEND AND ROMANCE.

SLOW DOWN BEFORE ENTERING INTERSECTIONS



Captain Sandford Sez:

I HAVE NOT VERY MUCH FOLIAGE on the top of my head. Perhaps you have not either. Anyhow I lost mine in a good cause. One of my friends whose head is somewhat similar to mine proposed that we go to the barber together and make him a proposition of two for one. We did just that; and the barber, who is willing to spend a long time on a man whose head looks like a jolly old airdale all for $1.25, said to us, "Nothing doing, gentlemen; a dollar and a quarter apiece." The ole meany!

NOW DON'T ANY OF YOU BUZZARDS come asking me who is going to be sheriff. Please don't vote for me. I don't want to be sheriff. In fact, I just don't want to be nothin' no time. I understand it won't be Richardson, who now rides smoothly and comfortably, I believe. I think I know who is, and if you promise to be really good, maybe I'll whisper it into your ear if you ask me.

THE OTHER DAY I SAW a lady with green hair. You may not believe this, but I have not taken a drink nor smoked for nearly three years, and I maintain stoutly, in face of any criticism, that I saw a lady with green hair; and she had green finger nails too. A lady friend of mine asked me if I noticed if she had green eyelashes and I said, "Nuts, don't let's get too darned technical."

I BELIEVE IT was Voltaire who made the following statement in a letter written to Jean Jacques Rousseau sometime about the year 1767, "Although I do not believe one word of what you write or say, I will defend with my life your right to say it," and maybe Patrick Henry made a somewhat similar statement. All of this is probably true, but I am afraid that such a grandiloquent attitude towards the insidious machinations of our enemies might not provide a very successful defense for the things we love so well.

MANIAC'S BOULEVARD becomes more dangerous every day. To endeavor to walk across even in a pedestrian way in broad daylight is tantamount to committing suicide. Driving in anything but a tank is also very dangerous indeed. Those organizations with authority to cure the situation, or at least cut down on the danger are practically futile.

In other words, Mark Twain's famous statement regarding the weather can very readily be applied to the highway situation. That is, a great deal has been said about it, but practically nothing has ever really been done about it. Nuts, and goodbye now.

Western Group At Band Concert

Western music by Walnut Creek's most popular young musical group will be a feature of the Walnut Creek Band's new variety show "Blossom Brevities," at 8:00 p.m. April 29, at Acalanes High School.

The "Melody Boys," pint-sized cowboy band fronted by Bob Silveira, hit of the first band show staged last fall, will again appear for the benefit of the band, Gene Williams, producer, announced today.

Since their appearance last fall, the "Melody Boys" have expanded from two to four musicians. Besides Bob and Leroy Silveira, the group now includes Dino Pozzobon, accordian wizzard, age 13, and Johnny Santos, 12, on the drums.

Prize Offered For Best Census Guess

What population will Contra Costa County record in the 1950 census? There's a $25.00 reward waiting for the person who names the figure. Meeting in Martinez last night the directors of the Contra Costa County Development Association authorized Association Manager Iona M. Booth to pay that amount to the person who names the census figure or comes closest to it.

The contest is open to all residents of the county.

All that is required is to write a letter to the Development Association, 838 Escobar Street, Martinez, and enclose the population estimate.

The letters should be marked "Population Contest."

The Dog Who Smiles While He Works Takes Trophy in This Recent Sport

By LYN McKEE

"Pretty is as pretty does." Spring Obedience Trials are blooming along with the tulips, and many a dog is on his best behavior. Since these events are relatively new, a briefing might be helpful for those who plan to view this sport for the first time.

Obedience training is one of the fastest growing phases of the dog world. Popular in England, it was introduced in the United States in 1934, starting with one New York club and mushrooming into well over 200 clubs, spread from coast to coast. In this section of the country, there are training clubs in the Lafayette-Walnut Creek area, Richmond, Oakland, San Leandro, and 3 in San Francisco.

CHEERFUL OBEDIENCE

Training standards have been set up by the American Kennel Club. They consist of the teaching of commands which will make for a well-mannered dog, completely under the control of his master at any time. They also emphasize the point that a dog should be trained to obey the commands cheerfully. A cowering dog is no delight.

The dogs are taught to sit or to lie down and to "stay," until given a signal to move. They are taught to walk close to the left side of their master, that is, to "heel," on the leash and off; to come when called; to retrieve and to track. These are practical rules, useful to the dog owner in every-day life.

OWNERS' REASONS

Some owners train their dogs merely because they wish to have a well-behaved pet. Others have bench shows in mind, and realize that good manners are helpful in this form of competition. Still others plan to enter their dogs in Obedience Trials.

Poodles and German Shepherds have led the field, to date, but success has also been gained by almost every type of pure-bred dog, as well as by mongrels. From Lafayette, for example, there are Irish setters, cocker spaniels, springer spaniels, a Great Dane, a standard poodle and mixed-breed dogs being trained in obedience classes.

In Obedience Trials, pure-bred dogs compete for trophies and work toward the degrees of C.D., C.D.X. and U.D. (Companion dog, Companion Dog Excellent, and Utility Dog.) When earned, these degrees are placed permanently after the name of the dog. For instance, a bull terrier owned by Jack C. Moore, Jr., of Orinda, is named Champion Her Eminence of Monty-Ayr, C.D.

The dogs are judged solely on their performance and the apparent degree of their cheerful willingness to perform.

Come on out to one of the forthcoming Trials, and the chances are that you will become a regular fan. Any spectator will agree that it is easy to see why obedience training is sweeping the country.

MISCELLANY— Premium lists for the Santa Cruz show on May 7 are now in the hands of dog handlers. Many from this area plan to exhibit. The show will be held at the Pogonip Polo and Country Club.

Juanita Waite reports that two Waiterock springer spaniels have been making the dog show circuit. Waiterock Recruit has returned from Arizona, with 10 points toward a Championship. Bert Howard's Waiterock Whistle has been tripping through Texas, with a win in every show.

Judges for the Mt. Diablo Obedience Trial on April 23 form an impressive trio. Virginia Williams is coming from San Francisco, Roy Hatfield from Portland, and William F. Johns from San Rafael, where he is the director for the Guide Dogs for the Blind School.

The Oakland Dog Training Club Obedience Trial has been set for May 21.

At a recent obedience class, we saw a plucky spaniel attack one of the biggest Great Danes for miles around. The Dane eyed the little belligerent, then good-naturedly rolled over on top of him. End of fight. Also, end of these dog tales, for now.

Devil Talk

By MEPHISTOPHELES

PAST HISTORY— Did you know that the four original Indian Tribes living in Contra Costa County were the Acalanes, Juckiyunes, Carquinez and Bolgones?

That the first town survey in the county was MARTINEZ, back in 1849 and first newspaper was the Contra Costa Gazette, established in 1851 (April 25th)?

That coal was discovered Nov. 24, 1858 on Mt. Diablo and there weer four active mines started on its slopes? This coal was shipped out on the long defunct San Pablo and Tulare Railroad Co.

There is a certain well known gambling czar in the SOUTHWESTERN part off the county that is now operating 100 "Horse Telephones." This "ADDED BUSINESS" is coming from San Francisco and Oakland, because the HEAT is on in these two cities. "At least it's on temporarily."

Red Cross Offers First Aid Class

Answering the increased demand for classes in first aid, Mt. Diablo Chapter, American Red Cross, announces another standard first aid course under the guidance of Mrs. Karl Pape.

The first meeting will be held in the chapter house, 1607 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, at 8 p.m. next Tuesday. The time and frequency of the following sessions are to be decided that night. Interested persons may call the Red Cross office between 9 and 1 on week days for information and registration. Walnut Creek 2647.

Blalock Tells of Central America

In recognition of Pan American Week, Andy Blalock presented a special program at this week's meeting of Orinda Rotary, based on his many trips to Central and South America. He described the many interesting archeological ruins there and showed colored slides taken in Guatemala and Mexico City.

The high standard of culture of the early Aztecs was compared by Blalock to that of early Egypt, and many similarities were brought out, including the pyramids which both races constructed. He said the Aztecs built the largest pyramids in the world; not as tall as the Egyptian structures but covering larger areas.

The program was of special interest through the details the speaker was able to give from his first-hand knowledge of the Latin American countries.

Red Cross Drive Goes Over Quota

Another week of the extended campaign of the 1950 Red Cross Fund Campaign in the Mt. Diablo district has yielded another $1,000 to give this territory a total for the drive of $15,677.61 collected through April 15.

This represents an increase over the official goal of $12,500 of more than 25 per cent and raises last year's record breaking total by $1,030.70, according to R. W. Rinehart, who announced the successful conclusion of the officially extended drive on April 15 and so advised the community chairmen responsible for the result.

It is to be expected that the present sum will be increased materially, perhaps to $16,000 by the time the last reports from isolated sections have been turned in and tabulated.

Certificates acknowledging the cooperation of better than 400 workers who have been engaged in the campaign for the past six weeks are being prepared and will be mailed shortly, according to Red Cross headquarters in Walnut Creek.

New Indoor Gardeners Will Find These Tips Will Help Their Plants

By BERT WRIGHT

This month many folks will receive house plants as gifts. In some cases they will be well acquainted with the best methods of caring for them because they are already indoor gardeners. On the other hand, it may be a new experience for some. It is for the latter that the following information is intended.

Generally, there are six factors to be considered for best success with house plants. They are: light, temperature, humidity, watering, insects and feeding.

IMPORTANT POINTS

With these factors in mind, suppose we discuss briefly the important points in the care of the more popular gift plants. To begin with, you can use the same methods of pest control and feeding with many of them.

By dusting every week or so, it is possible to keep many plant pests from getting started. For feeding, complete plant food in tablet form has been used by many gardeners with great success. Certainly there is no more convenient way to see that your house plants get the vital nutrients they need from soil to be healthy and full-blooming.

Plants should be fed at the rate of 2 tablets to a 6-inch pot with complete food tablets. For plants in 10-inch pots use 4 tablets and vary the number used proportionately for plants in larger or smaller pots. Place the tablets along the edge of the pot in all cases and about an inch away from the rim. Space them about 6 inches apart, measuring around the circumference of the pot.

Make holes about 1 inch deep and drop the tablets into these holes. Cover with soil and water thoroughly. Application should be made every 4 to 6 weeks.

Recognizing Our Talents

WE all have our talent, our ability to do our part in the work of the world. "But," we may say, "I have no special talents and not much ability, apparently, for I don't seem able to get ahead."

This is a mistake. It means only that our talent and ability are still unrecognized, even by ourself.

We must learn where to look for our ability, and how to make it serve a useful purpose.

Some feel an inflated sense of personal ability, personal achievement, and believe success is a personal accomplishment, to be gained alone and unaided. This exaggerated sense of self-importance is often not detected until a mortal fails to reach some desired goal, to realize some deeply cherished ambition.

Both extremes of personal sense are unsatisfactory; both are based on a false premise, and both may be healed and corrected by an understanding of the truth of man. Man has no underived ability. . . . Man does not originate; he reflects. Every talent he possesses, every useful, good quality he expresses, originates in God, the divine Mind, not in a personal, limited mind.

This truth is a comfort to the one who thinks he has no talent and little ability. God, the Father of all, has not neglected or forgotten any one of us. Our need is to get closer to Him, to look to Him for our ability, to turn to Him for direction. As we do this, we find that He unfolds, in proper order, every footstep we must take towards achievement and success. "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way," writes Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 454).

Many an individual today is proving this. As we gain an understanding of the true relationship between God and man, Mind and its reflection, we stop floundering and wandering in confusion. Instead, we find unfolding in our experience abilities and talents which we recognize as God-given. These are not personal possessions; they are expressions of God, the Divine Being.

An understanding of this spiritual fact has a far-reaching effect. It precludes egotism or personal conceit, and fosters humility and gratitude. It releases mankind from a sense of burden. When we perceive that the talent we express is of God, we know that God will show us how to develop it. We can trust Mind to protect, nourish, and prosper it, to inspire every forward step.

This confidence banishes anxiety. In place of aggressive conduct, which springs from fear, we express ourselves in poise and grace.

The attainment of the right use of talent is worth whatever it may cost in inward struggles and vigorous battles with self. For success won in this way is the reward of obeying the Christly command (Matthew 6:33), "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."—The Christian Science Monitor.

Orinda Terrier To Enter Trials

Ch. Her Eminence of Monty-Ayr, C.D., a bull terrier owned by Jack C. Moore, Jr., of Orinda, will be among the dogs entered in the Open Class at the Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club's Obedience Trial. This event will be held Sunday at the Walnut Creek City Park, starting at 10 a.m. and continuing through the day. Admission will be free.

119 dogs have been entered, totaling one of the largest entries ever received for a western trial. Many breeds of dogs will be represented, ranging from some of the largest, Irish Wolfhound and Great Dane, to some of the smallest, Japanese Spaniel, a toy breed rarely seen in obedience work.

Doberman Pinschers head the list of entries in number, followed by Cocker Spaniels and Collies. Many German Shepherds will be on hand, as will four English bulldogs, another breed seldom viewed at trials.

A Weimaraner, owned by Mrs. F. W. Kuhn of Boise, Idaho, will probably attract more attention than any other entry. This breed of dog, German in origin, is causing great exictement in dog circles today. Introduced into the United States in recent years, the Weimaraner is scarce in number, highly priced, and well guarded by breeders. This dog is a gray, short-haired dog with amber or blue eyes, and is commonly known as the "Gray Ghost." He is extolled for his striking appearance, his high intelligence and tractability, and his adaptability to the field, to the show ring, and to the home.

Dogs will compete in the Novice Classes, the Open Classes and the Utility Class. Five trophies will be awarded for each class, as well as a trophy for the best performer of each breed.

Church Schedules Second Work Day

Continuing projects started last Saturday, men of the Orinda Community Church congregation will have another "Work Day" tomorrow on the church grounds, it is announced by Ralph C. Hall, chairman of that department for the church trustees.

Working under Hall's supervision, the men made progress on a stone curbing for the parking circle, dug most of a ditch to drain the upper side of the church building, and planted a Sequoia tree in the circle. Further plantings are anticipated this week, in addition to completion of projects under way.

Among those who helped last week under Hall's leadership are Mr. and Mrs. Will Cochrane, Jesse McMillan, Don Krotz, George Brockhurst, John Laird, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hupp and David, Ernest Rahmeyer, W. C. Branch and A. W. Elkinton. An urgent call for other volunteers has been issued for this Saturday in view of the chairman's inability to be in the community on future Saturdays. The work will continue throughout the day, and workers are advised to bring lunches. Coffee will be served at noon.

Booklet Translates Unique Road Names

Many newcomers to Orinda have not yet seen that valuable little booklet, "Orinda Roads" for if they had they should surely have gotten one. The booklet has the story of how Orinda got its name, and a list of all the Orinda roads having Spanish names and their meaning in English. For example, Ardilla means the "squirrel," Dos Osos, "the two bears," Lomas Cantadas, "the singing hills," Bien Venida, "welcome," Camino de Encinas, "road of live oaks" etc.

Enclosed in the booklet are two of the best maps of Orinda to be found anywhere. Not only are the roads of the Orinda area, including the newer districts of Sleepy Hollow and Glorietta, shown in heavy dark lines, but the maps are picture maps, a picture of a squirrel on Ardilla, two bears on Dos Osos, a doorway and welcome mat on Bien Venida, singing faces on the hills of Lomas Cantadas.

These illustrations were all contributed by the Sacramento artist, Marjorie Korn, and the work of compiling was also contributed so that the booklet can be sold by the Women's Guild for the small sum of 50 cents. If you haven't your copy yet or would like another, phone Orinda 5871.

WIITH THE ROUNDER

IT'S REALLY SPRINGTIME in Orinda. Kids are blossoming forth in swim suits and heading for the nearest pool, trees are budding all over the countryside—and even the telephone poles are displaying their springtime dress. George Barkley, who'd like to be County Treasurer, got his election posters up first.

And, somewhat like the grizzlies who scratch the tree trunks as high as they can reach to prove their prowess to the next bear, Barkley posted his signs so high up the poles that Orindans are going to get cricks in their respective necks from trying to read the things.

Won't be too long now before the rest of the poles are covered with campaign literature. And it might be a good time to ask the politicos to promise Orindans they will rtmove the facsimiles of their pusses from our poles when the election's over.

THERE ARE ANY NUMBER of persons who moved out here to live the good quiet country life away from the noises of the city—and who are now beginning to wonder how come. Particularly those living within hearing distance of Moraga and Orinda Highways. The so-called quiet of the countryside is merely something they read about since those ill-fitting man-hole covers have been installed. Civic Affairs Committee is trying to do something about it for frustrated suburbanites right now.

ABSURDIA IN SUBURBIA gets staged pretty soon. If they can locate an all-important prop for one of the skits. Absurdia is right—in this weather they're looking for—of all things—a raccoon coat. The Rounder once before dug up chamber pots and live pigs for the Dramateurs—maybe Orinda boasts of an ex-Joe College who has such a garment stowed away in the attic.

ONE OF THE FIRST PIECES of business at the Orinda Association's Board meeting Monday night will be the diagonal parking "problem" at the Crossroads. Representatives of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce (formerly Better Biz. Assoc.) will be there.

But all is now confusion. Until last Monday night the concensus seemed to be among residents that the diagonal parking should be eliminated. But last Monday night an informal vote was taken of members of the Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association . . . voted heavily in favor of diagonal parking. What now?

THE CAMPAIGN FOR THE OFFICE of sheriff is officially in full swing. Both leading candidates have ads extolling their virtues in this week's SUN. Miller says he's for strict law enforcement against gambling.

James "N.C." Long makes no mention, as has become his habit, about gambling. Merely points out to the potential voters why he's such a nice man. That "N.C.", of course, stands for the sheriff's new nick-name "No comment" and not for "No 'count" as one of our southern friends intimated.

Which reminds us also that John Miller seems not to be worried a bit about the results of the race he's entered. Takes off for Honolulu with the Sheriff's Posse which he organized, right in the middle of his campaign.

ODDS AND ENDS AND ORINDANS: That real estate sign up on Crest View Drive that causes a double take every time you pass it. "For Sale by Owner—Inquire Within." Sign's in the middle of a vacant lot. . . . Mrs. Brown, whom you'll remember as Belva Leland, is a proud daughter these days. Her mother, Mrs. Budge of Utah, was selected as the outstanding mother of that state for 1949. . . . Amusing no end to Orinda Democrats is the recent request for Federal aid in building Orinda's new firehouse. Predominantly Republican Orinda asking for Truman's assistance?

Orindans were somewhat amused, too, to hear that some 50 persons attending the Country Club dance last weekend found their cars tagged for illegal parking. Considerable more good would be done, it appears to the Rounder, if the ambitious cops who did the tagging, devoted some of their eager-beaver tactics to taking a few of those stop-sign blind drivers who roar through the one at El Toyonal and Orinda Highway.

Only in the Village can coffee time be such an interesting event . . . you sip your java and watch several Orinda lasses learning to correct their hooks and slices on the greens across from Wright's soda fountain. Nice job that Pat Patten has. . . . The Contra Costa Patrol that maintains an all night car in this area for Orindans' protection recently discovered that the longest time, to date, that it's taken them to answer a call was 5 minutes—from one end of Orinda to the other. Are now trying to get enough more subscribers to their service to put another car in Orinda.

THAT MAGIC SYMPHONY sponsored by the Lions last Saturday night pleased many, but only went to prove that magicians are human too. Ray Heywood, sleight of hand artist, pulled a lot of fancy tricks, nearly smothered in a sack locked up in a trunk. He slammed chunks of steel through a curvaceous female apparently strapped in a box. Through it all no one was injured.

He took Carl Miller's coat and stuck a knife through it and ripped heartily. Still no damage. Tried the trick again. His magic potion didn't work so well. Carl Miller's coat escaped damage—but the magic words didn't protect the magician's finger. Got it in the way—got it cut. Very disillusioning.

IF YOU'RE WONDERING how come the Park Pool isn't open to take advantage of the weather, it's because the bottom of the pool isn't painted yet. And from indications it isn't about to be done very quickly. It's a good sized pool as you know. And painting it would be a good sized order for a crew of men. Which is why, when Caretaker Hare surveys the vast expanse of pool bottom, he probably gets a bit discouraged. He's going to paint the whole thing—with a brush yet.

SOME PEOPLE GET ANTS in their pants—others bats in their belfry, etc. But the Montagues have bees in their chimney, and therefore also in and out of their house most of the time. Are never quite certain when some super-sized bee is going to dive bomb them. Every other Orindan is a bit uneasy too about the stinging pests. Seem to be twice as many and twice as large as they were last year.

The Charles Hanks family was having a picnic out on their lawn recently—thought they heard a plane—looked up ad spotted a swarm of bees—lit out for the house under full steam with the bees in hot pursuit. Orinda, over-run with mosquitoes in the past, and with hamsters too, managed to rid themselves of those pests. Anyone any ideas to help eliminate the bees?

Shattuck: I'll Intervene if County Does Not Control Gambling and Crime

Edward S. Shattuck, candidate for Attorney General, has pledged himself to turn the "spotlight of publicity" on local law enforcement officers who do not combat gambling and racketeering, and follow it up with state action.

In an interview with the SUN Tuesday morning, following his appearance at a Republican breakfast at El Nido Restaurant, Shattuck declared, that if he is elected, he is prepared to intervene personally in counties where local officials do not act after being informed of criminal situations.

At the interview Shattuck was presented an outline of the present gambling situation in Contra Costa County.

PLAN OF ACTION

He outlined this plan of action to be taken by his office if elected:

An investigative and publicity program will be set up by the Attorney General's office similar to that now being conducted by the Governor's Commission on Organized Crime.

Purpose of the program will be to coordinate state action with that of local authorities. When a dangerous situation is found, Shattuck said he will inform local and county law enforcement agencies. If no action is taken, he said he will call them once more and "give them three days to clean up the mess. Then I'll turn the story over to the press and move in with my own men."

Shattuck emphasized that law enforcement is the responsibility of the public and rests with them. However, he said, he will move in if there is no other course open "as it is the responsibility and duty of the Attorney General of the State of California."

REPUBLICAN GATHERING

At the breakfast meeting he spoke before a small gathering of Republicans from Lafayette, Orinda and adjoining communities. The meeting marked the start of a one-day campaign tour of Contra Costa County. He was accompanied by Louis Burnheim, Richmond, campaign chairman for the county.

He was introduced by Robert Pedder, Republican County Central Committeeman. Also present was M. C. Friel, Republican candidate for Congress.

In his speech Shattuck pointed out the importance of Republican organization to get out the vote to help counteract the Democratic majority in the county.

He pointed out the strategic importance of the county, stating:

"If the Republicans had carried Contra Costa County in 1948 they would have carried California in the Presidential election."

HOWSER BLASTED

His talk was primarily devoted to attacking the present administration of Attorney General Fred N. Howser.

"Never before has the integrity of an attorney general in California been questioned," he said. "The issue is this: For over a year now completely substantiated evidence has been presented to show organized crime and gambling in California.

"The present Attorney General has not only not fought syndicated crime but has actually placed obstacles in the path of those who seek to remedy the situation.

"In every instance when a district attorney has tried to stop organized gambling in his county the Attorney General has rushed in to block the case. As witness the recent case of 'branded' punchboards in Sonoma County."

MICKEY'S PROTECTION

Shattuck asked why the Attorney General's men were placed to guard Mickey Cohen. He declared that organized crime has so much money that:

"They buy and corrupt public officials and they go before the legislature with one of the most powerful lobbies in the nation.

"It is a disgraceful and shameful situation in California. This is something vital to you, the people."

Asked whom he would support in the November election in the event Howser were to capture the Republican nomination and Pat Brown were to win the Democratic primary, Shattuck replied, "Of course I hope to win the primary, but that's a bridge I'll cross when I come to it."

Republicans Give Nod to Candidates

The Republican Club of Richmond has endorsed M. C. Friel for Congress from this district and Leo Armstrong for the State Assembly.

At its April 14 meeting Republicans also endorsed Earl Warren for governor, Goodwin Knight for lieutenant governor, Edward Shattuck for attorney general and Richard M. Nixon for the U. S. Senate.

There were 75 persons in attendance at the meeting. Contra Costa County Republican Central Committee members in attendance included: Louise Bernheim, Gust Allen, Ray Grylich, Ray Verostek, Norman Gregg, Emily B. Axtell, Mortimer Veole, Bob Pedder and W. D. McNevin.

Dance Set for Hospital Benefit

The Muir Branch of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay will hold its annual Informal Spring Dance tomorrow night at the Diablo Country Club.

Planning to attend from Lafayette are: Messrs. and Mesdames Lee Searight, George Planz, Don Fibush, John Heafey, Albert Wahl and R. J. Moore.

Orindans who have signified their intention to attend the dance include: Messrs. and Mesdames Neil Munro, S. Warren Smith, W. C. Little, Charles P. Wilson and George Huldrum.

Alumni to Salute St. Mary's Coach

Coach Joseph Reutz and his new St. Mary's football coaching staff will be honored at a dinner sponsored by Contra Costa County alumni and friends of St. Mary's on Tuesday night, April 25, at the El Nido Rancho near Lafayette.

Bay area collegiate mentors and Buck Shaw of the San Francisco '49ers will attend, according to Co-chairmen Richard C. Johnston of Richmond and Jack Rector of Walnut Creek.

The ticket committee is headed by Dan Hurley of El Cerrito and includes Leo Gordon of Martinez, Allan Doidge of Pinole, Patrick J. Lucey of Crockett, Jerry Fitzpatrick of Concord, Allan Clark and Reder Claeys of Richmond, Bob LaRue of Lafayette and Jack Snow of Orinda.

Home Economist To Demonstrate Freeze Technique

Dorothy Jean Snow, home economist, will be in Lafayette next Friday for a home freezer clinic at the Appliance Center.

Matt Connolly, owner of the Appliance Center, this week extended a cordial invitation to all housewives of the area to attend the demonstration and clinic where they will see the latest methods of preparing foods for freezing storage and demonstration of approved cooking methods.

There will be two demonstrations, one at 2 p.m. and the other at 7:30 p.m. There will be a question and answer period following the demonstration. There is no admission charge.

Miss Snow, chief home economist for the Frank Edwards Company, recommends home freezing as the practical solution to the problem of serving tasty, well-balanced meals the year 'round. Buying foods "in season," when quality is right and prices are low, is the answer to the problem, according to her.

Panel of Garden Experts Will Talk At First Annual Event at Acalanes

The First Annual Garden Clinic for Central Contra Costa County will be held at 8 p.m. May 18 in the auditorium of Acalanes High School, under the sponsorship of the Contra Costa Shopping News, the Orinda SUN and the Lafayette SUN.

A panel of authoritative speakers will be presented. Following their short analyses of popular gardening subjects the experts will conduct a question and answer period.

The speakers will be furnished through cooperation of the California Nurserymen's Association.

Jack Schneider will act a chairman of the event.

In announcing the clinic Herman Silverman, publisher of the three sponsoring newspapers said "Since gardening is the chief avocation of Central Contra Costa County the Shopping News and SUNS hope the program will be of enough benefit and arouse sufficient interest to make this an annual event.

"A cordial invitation is extended to all gardeners of this area. We are sure that they will all find it worthwhile."

Similar garden clinics have been conducted in other sections of the Bay Area under sponsorship of various newspapers and have proven highly successful, but this is the first time such a program has been planned for this section of the county.

Extensive plans for the clinic are now being drawn up and the panel of speakers will be announced shortly.

There will be no admission fee charged for the garden meeting.

Strawhatters to Maintain Informal Tradition When They Open Tomorrow

When the Strawhatters open tomorrow in Lafayette Town Hall with "You Asked For It," another of their intimate, musical revues, they will be carrying on old traditions and inaugurating new ones.

New this year, is their Spring Season during which they will be playing just three nights a week, (Thursday, Friday and Saturday) until June, when the opening of their Fourth Summer Season puts them on a six-nights-a-week basis.

One of the old traditions of the Straw Hat Theatre is its clean, fast-paced, light-hearted style of entertainment in the revue form, and "You Asked For It" follows in that tradition. More than half of the show is new material in that same tradition as the much requested gems that make up the other half. Side-splitting, sweet or blue, the style is distinctive, and the impact a memorable one.

Among all the other traditions of the Straw Hat Theatre is the twenty minute intermission . . . an experience in itself. Down in the "Tack Room" coffee, soft drinks and "make-em-yourself" sandwiches are served by the cast, while the patrons chat and relax from the rigors of hearty laughter. Gordon Connell and Dub Johnson take turns at the piano, and the intermission becomes an Act in itself.

Tickets for "You Asked For It" are now available and may be reserved by calling the Straw Hat Office, BErkeley 7-6460, or purchased at the usual agencies. Prices are traditional too, $1.50 and $2.00, including tax.

Letters Protest Public Housing

Local protests against public housing in Contra Costa County will be considered by the county supervisors at their meeting next Monday.

Letters opposing public housing have been sent to the supervisors by the trustees of Acalanes Union High School District and the Lafayette Business and Professional Women's Club.

The school trustees' letter, sent by Neil Parsons, district superintendent, said: "Trustees of the district unanimously went on record as definitely opposed to any public housing in this area."

WOULD HAMPER SCHOOLS

The board's "feeling is that such housing would adversely affect the long-range planning which the board has been doing to provide future education of high school pupils in this district by destroying the balance between enrollments and assessed valuation," Parsons wrote.

According to the letter from Mrs. Frances Tomer, corresponding secretary of the Lafayette Business and Professional Women's Club, her organization has "gone on record as unanimously opposed to public housing in Contra Costa County.

FACTS STUDIED

"The club, after studying facts and statistics on the matter, feels that the county as a whole would be benefited by not increasing the amount of public housing in the county."

The women's group also urged the supervisors to place the public housing issue on the November ballot.

The communications arrived too late to be included on the regular agenda of Monday's meeting and will be considered next Monday.

However, the Federal Government has already advanced a $55,000 loan for construction of 150 of the 1078 low rent units asked by the Contra Costa County Public Housing Authority.

Garden Show Opens to Throng

Last night's preview of the California Spring Garden Show at Oakland Auditorium saw throngs of sponsors and their guests arriving to see the horticultural display which has the theme name of "Pacifica" this year.

An outstanding social event of the year, many formal dinner parties in both clubs and private homes preceded the traditionally full dress occasion when sponsors who have contributed support to the show, accompany their guests through the completed array of exhibits.

LOCAL SPONSORS

Among the sponsors from this area, many of whom invited guests to the preview are: Orinda, Mrs. Wallace M. Alexander; Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Bridwell; Mrs. William H. Foster; Mr. and Mrs. James H. Freeman; Mr. and Mrs. Henry William Gentry; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gelwix; Dr. and Mrs. Woodburn K. Lamb; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Lueck; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Merrill; Mr. and Mrs. Will F. Morrish; Mr. nad Mrs. Mark Noble; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raskob; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall A. Shapiro; Robert K. Smith; Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe G. Van Nuys; Mr. and Mrs. C. Wadsworth White; Mr. and Mrs. John F. Williams; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wood and Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Lange.

From Lafayette, C. J. Duncan; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roland Hill; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Howard Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Channing Jones Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Meek; Mr. and Mrs. James R. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Seulberger Jr.

EIGHT DAY RUN

The show, which opens to the public today for an eight-day run, dramatizes the fine landscape architecture typical of the Western coastal area. Fine arts of the nations bordering on the Pacific Ocean are displayed in cooperation with major northern California garden clubs, in the "court of Pacific Nations" near the main theme building.

The famed outdoor gardens, which have now assumed an importance equal to the indoor display due to the naturalistic setting made possible by the terrain, lead directly from the courtyard.

A 25-foot bridal-veil type of waterfall which plunges into a fresh-water lagoon is feature of the indoor exhibit. Stately redwoods tower to the ceiling to add to the deep wooded effect of the overall picture. Shoreline summer homes seen so often in the coastal area north to Oregon are included in the design plans.

EDUCATIONAL DISPLAYS

More than a half dozen sections of educational displays, rare succulents, cacti, ground covers, flower arrangements and ferns, have been added for additional interest this year.

Ned S. Rucker, architect and general manager of the affair, has promised that this 18th Spring exhibit will be a memorable one. California Spring Garden Shows are operated as a non-profit corporation under the direction of a board of directors headed by Edward T. Foulkes, Oakland architect. Funds for prize awards are derived from the First District Agricultural Association, official sponsors of the show.

Entries are to be sent to the Girl Scout office in Lafayette.

Judges, who will be announced later, will meet shortly after May 16 to decide on the winning name.

Presbyterians Plan Building Program

The Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church is planning to build a new church and an Expansion Committee has been set up to handle details.

The committee has secured the services of Donald Hardistan, Richmond architect.

Services for the next three Sundays will deal with new church planning. Next Sunday will be special reservation day with a surprise service planned.

Services will be at three regular times of 9:45 and 11 a.m.

Evening services at 7:30 p.m. will have Louis Evans, Jr., son of Dr. Louis Evans, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood, as guest speaker.

All other activities of the church will be suspended during these next few weeks and all energies will be directed toward the drive for the new church building.

SPORTS

FROM THE SIDELINES

By Coach Erwin Mattson

THE SPRING BASEBALL season finds a number of Acalanes grads active on various college diamonds.

Bill Piona is a main cog in the Modesto J.C. nine serving as a catcher and on occasion taking to the mound. He is also used as an outfielder at times due to his hitting which finds him in the all important number four spot.

Roy Van Den Heuvel has turned to baseball after holding down a guard spot on the Menlo J.C. basketball team.

Ed Bill is busy throwing the discus for Contra Costa Junior College and on the basis of early trials could well hit the 150-foot mark which is o.k. when one remembers that 145 won the Cal-Stanford meet.

He has also been doing double duty, playing in the outfield and taking a turn pitching.

Dave Johnson is one of the mainstays of a strong frosh pitching staff at the University of California. Dave lived up to advance notices when he went the route versus Stanford to win going away 8-2 while giving up seven well scattered hits.

The win gave Dave his Frosh numerals as it gave him more than enough innings of play to meet the letter requirements.

DON FERRARESE, the fireball southpaw of All American fame, is apparently burning up the circuit as he tosses the horsehide for Wenachee in the Northern Bee League just a point below Coast League in rating.

Don is on 48 hour recall and may well be back with the Oaks before too long.

Dick Green's one-hit masterpiece against Alhambra High last week marked the third time in not too long that Don chuckers have performed the feat.

Don Ferrarese tossed two one-hitters and on both occasions was kept from no-hitters by fluke hits.

On one occasion it was a broken bat which caused a fielder to duck and the other time found a bad hop resulting in a lone hit.

ALHAMBRA'S LONE HIT last week came when Dick threw a change-of-pace slow curve to a number eight batter who all but fell down in hitting a blooper to center field.

Dick's one hitter last week received recognition when he was named one of the stars of the week in a column of an East Bay daily.

THE COUNTY BASEBALL league incidentally is closer than the skin on a drum with Acalanes, Antioch and John Swett tied for the top spot and Diablo coming strong.

It looks as if it will be close all the way and the pennant race could well go down to the final week just as it did last year.

INCIDENTALLY, TRACK fans have a treat in store this Saturday night when some 20 odd schools compete in the Alhambra Relays under the lights at Martinez starting at 7 p.m.

All events including field events have four men entered as a team from each school. In the hurdles for example four run as a relay team. In the shot the total distance of each school's four men are added together.

The event is an annual affair and gives a picture of team strength as far as depth is concerned. Here is a time when the number four man is just as important as the number one.

Dons Trim Alhambra in Walkaway, 7-2

The Acalanes baseball nine came back swinging with a vengeance last week when they hit Big Will Hall of Alhambra at will to register a 7-2 win while gathering ten hits.

On the other side of the ledger

Dick Green carved out a masterpiece as he gave up but a single hit of the blooper variety when Kitchens of Alhambra lofted one in the fourth frame.

ONLY LAPSE

Dick had the situation well in hand except for a brief lapse in the third when he filled the bases on three walks after two were away.

A bobble on what appeared to be the third out resulted in two runs scampering home. The next batter grounded out to first base and from there on it was 1-2-3 most of the time with but one other player reaching first via the four-ball route.

THREE-WAY TIE

The win threw the Dons into a three way tie for first with Antioch and John Swett.

Elsewhere in league play Antioch upset previously unbeaten John Swett 5-4 while Diablo ran wild to submerge a hapless Pittsburg nine 11-2.

Orinda Sermon Series Continues

Continuing a post-Easter series of services based on the question "Then what happened?", the congregation of Orinda Community Church will worship next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock under the leadership of the minister, Rev. Fred R. Morrow.

The choir led by Mary Elizabeth Tomme is taking a large part in the post-Easter services. Preaching on the subject "The Garments of Hope," the Rev. Morrow will point out the way in which early expectations of the "second coming" of Christ were altered in form and resulted in an even better hope. "A world that keeps its expectations high may not see them realized in exactly the way it anticipates, but the outcome may even surpass its hopes," is the pastor's contention.

Sunday school departments will gather at 9:30 for worship and instruction.

District Supt. To Inspect Church

The Lafayette Community Methodist Church will celebrate the inspection visit of District Superintendent Rev. Warren a Bonner, D. D. next Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service. Dr. Bonner officially supervises the work of the Central District, covering territory from Richmond to Merced, including Stockton and all churches between.

After the preaching service at 11 o'clock the official group of church officers will meet to discuss plans for the coming year and hear reports on progress of the past twelve months. All members of the Church are eligible to attend this meeting, at which policies for the coming year will be discussed and decided.

Graded Church School at 9:45 Sunday morning. Youth Fellowship 7 p.m. Choir rehearsal Thursday evening at 8 p.m., Oscar Busch, director. Harry E. Shaner, pastor. George A. Miller, Pastor Tmeritus.

Altar Society To Hold Dance

The annual dinner dance of the Santa Maria Altar Society will be held at 7:30 p.m. April 29 at Orinda Country Club.

Anyone wishing to attend may obtain tickets from any of the following ladies: Mesdames George Courtney, Woodcrest Drive; John Stahle, Los Vegas and Anthony Cianciarulo, Estates Drive.

Catholic Youth Club To Receive Communion

The Catholic Youth Club of the Santa Maria Church in Orinda will receive Holy Communion on Sunday April 23 at the 8 o'clock mass. Confessions will be heard on Saturday from 4 to 5 and 7:30 to 8:30.

Adult Sunday School Proves Popular

The Adult class of the Lafayette Mission Covenant Church is proving to be one of the most popular departments in the Sunday School. Such a class has been offered from the beginning of the Covenant work in the area some five years ago, with varying interest.

Until a few months ago, however, the great difficulty was that most interested adults had to be put to work at once in other phases of the Sunday School activity. As the proportion of adult attendance has increased, however, this has no longer been necessary, and a fine adult group is developing. Perhaps even more important, has been the fine work done by the class teacher, Mr. F. V. Custer.

Custer is a teacher with a rich and interesting background — a native of Portugal who came to this country alone as a boy, made his way through the University of California to a masters degree and a Phi Betta Kapa key. A teacher for many years in Castlemont High School, and an officer in the air force during the last war — he combined an understanding of the problems of life with a vital faith in Christian truth which makes him an ideal class leader. The class meets during the regular Sunday School Hour, from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. and extends a welcome to all interested adults.

The regular services of the church will be held on Sunday, with Pastor Clifford L. Nixon bringing the messages. Other services will be held to a minimum to permit as wide attendance as possible at the Canvas Cathedral at Lakeshore Ave. and Foothill Boulevard. Several Lafayette people having already had part in filling the great tent to overflowing, as it has been on the opening two nights of the Torrey Johnson campaign.

HERE IS THE BIGGEST GAMBLING FORTRESS IN CALIFORNIA .. AND IT'S LOCATED Right in Contra Costa County

Go out to "No Man's Land" . . . in Contra Costa County and SEE FOR YOURSELF!

Take a look at the palatial (fortress) mansion in which William Pechart, long reputed Contra Costa County's "gambling king" resides. Ask HIM . . . to show you the bullet proof glass . . . the special "protective measures" . . . the entire intricate system of telephone lines to the "favored" outlets throughout this area!

For Eight Years

. . . William Pechart has remained untouched!

. . . For EIGHT YEARS . . . he has been "favored" by the Sheriff's office.

. . . For EIGHT YEARS . . . gambling has flourished in Contra Costa County!

Ask Yourself This Question: WHY?

. . . and then select your own answer! It's very simple. Let's not kid ourselves.

One of my primary election pledges . . . is to ERADICATE AND ELIMINATE this racket! If it is allowed to grow and flourish, it threatens to undermine our homes, our families, our children and our complete economic structure. Furthermore, I pledge myself NOT TO ALLOW any other racketeer to infiltrate to this unholy position.

CHECK THE RECORDS! See for yourself, how many times William Pechart was raided during my tenure as sheriff . . . and see for yourself, that we closed his "Rancho" gambling house . . . as well as many others!

Check The Records!!

Footwear Trends For 1950 Fashions

Shoes are in the eye of fashion this Spring as the silhouette narrows and skirts become shorter.

Feet and legs are in focus. It is the season of the pretty foot and ankle, the dainty, delicate shoe.

Dress, walking and beach shoes feel the influence of this open trend and the National Shoe Institute tells us that you can find cool, airy shoes in each of these classifications which are designed to help you look prettier, to make your Spring 1950 ensemble well coordinated and smart.

LIGHT TOUCH

Many suit shoes feature the comfortable mid-height walking heel, neat wall toe and the extended sole which are classical favorites. However, the 1950 light touch is shown on these shoes with cut-outs on the vamp, broad bands of leather played over each other to form a network of straps on the vamp or deep shell cut vamps which create an illusion of lightness and airiness.

Dress sandals appear in all fabrics with the uppers composed of thin winding straps worked intricately for a high riding effect which often stem from the low cut shell vamp. High tapering heels and single toes are most popular although low platform soles are also prevalent.

Beach and playtime shoes reflect a new trend which has not yet developed this Spring. It is the trend back to flat heeled shoes, due to the shorter, slimmer skirt revival. Flat shoes in gay young styles often consist merely of a twist of fabric or leather, a sole and flat heel.

STRAPS AND STRAPS

Multiple straps, single instep straps, winding straps, symmetric straps are found on comfortable, flat playshoes as well as the new very high heeled playtime shoe for women who can never be comfortable except in a high heel which tends to make legs slimmer and prettier.

Softest kidskin, polished calf, buttery suedes, gleaming patents and rich reptiles are all used this Spring. A newcomer to the shoe field is nylon which is available now in satins for gala evenings, in shantung for leisure and playtime. Washable, incredibly long lived, nylon is an adventure in shoe styling.

Not only will Admiral blue (a classic Navy blue shade) be popular, but other colors to accent Navy blue costumes will be featured in shoes.

Grammar School State Aid Told

The elementary schools of Contra Costa county are receiving $5,409,663 in state support for the current school year, California Taxpayers' association reported today. This includes both state support based on average daily attendance and the additional amount allowed by the 1949 special legislative session as an emergency apportionment for growth.

State support of the elementary schools in the county this year is based on 3,790 pupils in average daily attendance in kindergarten, 31,798 in the elementary grades, and 4,849 in grades 7 and 8 in junior high schools, a total of 40,437.

State support for high schools and junior colleges of the county is in addition to the apportionment for the elementary schools.

'Male and Female' To Be Reviewed

Mrs. Bertha Hunt will review Margaret Mead's "Male and Female" for the Lafayette Forum's Book Section, next Tuesday, at the Town Hall.

Mrs. Hunt has followed the author's career with lively interest since the publication of Miss Mead's "Coming of Age in Samoa," in the late '20's, when both Mrs. Hunt and the author were living on the Island of Samoa. In reviewing Miss Mead's latest work, Mrs. Hunt will stress that part which deal with the sexes and their relationship in contemporary American life.

Mrs. Ivy Spurgeon, Chairman of the Book Section, announces a change in both time and place of the May meeting of her section. The Book Section will meet in the Community Church, Friday, May 26, and two well-known authors wil be presented — Ora Pape Stewart, author of the very amusing "Pages From the Book of Eve;" and Margaret Utinsky, whose "Miss U" delineates her experiences in the Philippines and capture by the Japanese in the recent war.

ACCIDENTS COST

During the calendar year 1949, motor vehicle accidents cost every man, woman and child in the United States an estimated $19.

Horsemen's Group To Meet Here

Reports on activities and future plans of the California State Horsemen's Association will be presented to a representative body of horsemen and horsewomen from Region No. 5 (Contra Costa and Alameda Counties) when they meet at a dinner to be held Monday night at El Molino in Lafayette.

Host organization will be the junior riding club El Caballo Volante, Walnut Creek, headed by Eddy Tazer.

Among the dignitaries who will attend the affair as invited guests are Walnut Creek Mayor H. C. Cherrington, Chief of Police John Jordon, Rotary Club President Jack King, Kiwanis Club President Erving Magill, Lion Club President Barney Gilbert, Chamber of Commerce President R. N. "Pete" Rinehart, Walnut Festival Association President Elmer Hanson, Senator Breed of Oakland, and Kent Weaver, Ignacio Valley, official of the California State Riding and Hiking Trails Committee.

Taking an active part in the evening's ceremonies and business will be Fred Anderson, Oakland, president of the State Horsemen's Association, Fred Stone, Fair Oaks, secretary of the state organization, and Joseph Massone, Walnut Creek, regional vice-president.

According to the junior riders in charge of the meeting, the dinner will be at 7:30, with a floor show entertainment, and dancing will follow the conclusion of business.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power." This verse from I Corinthians (6:14) will be the Golden Text for the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, April 23, on the subject "Probation after Death."

The sermon will be comprised of other Bible citations and passages from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, from which the following are taken:

Acts: "And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one" (5:12 (to;), 16).

Science and Health: "Through all the disciples experienced, they became more spiritual and understood better what the Master had taught. His resurrection was also their resurrection. It helped them to raise themselves and others from spiritual dullness and blind relief in Good into the perception of infinite possibilities" (p. 34).

Home Dept. Hears Talk on Turkeys

The Lafayette Home Department under the Agriculture Extension Service of the University of California met Monday in the home of Mrs. Edwin Thomas, Stow Lane.

The subject "Enjoy Turkey Anytime" was presented by Mrs. Mary Ryon Lerchi, new Home Advisor for Contra Costa County.

Visitors to Craft Shop Come Away With Itch to Develop Hidden Talents

By DORIS SAGE

A versatile pair, Susan Campbell and Dale King of The Craft Shop; gifted at many types of handicraft themselves and intensely interested in encouraging others both with lessons they give and through the outstanding instructors who conduct classes at their shop on Mt. Diablo Boulevard in west Lafayette.

Both are obviously enthusiastic about their Spring Art Clases which include water color, tempera and oil painting with the noted William Horace Smith as instructor, the textile painting class in which stencil and silk screen work will be taught by Doris Clifford of Orinda, interesting projects in making useful as well as ornamental copper work, leather craft and weaving.

DISPLAYS FASCINATE

The shop is a fascinating spot with its displays of all types of hand crafted art. It is difficult to concentrate as one sees a simple masterpiece of a chair at one side, with seat and back fashioned of leather on a modern metal frame — Susan Campbell was the originator of this; or a modern lamp of copper and brass designed by Mrs. King, which is already winning acclaim, and orders, at Jellett's, Gump's, Casper's and other well-known shops.

Then a charming full-swinging skirt with large stenciled circus figures catches the eye, a creation of textile instructor Doris Clifford. Hand loomed fabrics, some already made into attractive place mats or yardage lengths, and others still on the looms in process of manufacture vie with displays of copper jewelry, functional copper articles, paintings and artists' materials, hand tooled leather products and a multitude of others, leaving one with much the feeling of "the child in a candy store" not knowing which to choose.

YOUTH REMEMBERED

The younger generation is not neglected as there are plane models as well as beginners' books and kits for various mediums of endeavor.

Mrs. Campbell, who acquired the shop through her intense interest in handicraft, has had instruction from outstanding teachers to augment her natural talent, and has been busy passing her knowledge on to others since The Craft Shop opened a year ago. Leather carving and weaving seem to be her forte although flower arrangement and many other gifts of designing and handicraft are evidently just as successfully undertaken.

RECREATION BACKGROUND

Mrs. King came to the shop with a background of service as recreation director at the arts and crafts center in Richmond and an unusual feminine wartime occupation doing electrical engineering and designing at Yard 3 in Richmond where she worked on the electrical plans for C4's and LST's and had the satisfaction of seeing her work, incorporated in the craft, actually in use during some of the trial runs.

She has carried on this designing talent in clothes and fabrics as well as with copper and other mediums.

The enthusiasm of The Craft Shop is contagious! One leaves with a hundred new ideas and plans tumbling in his brain, and fingers itching to start on learning. What's more, there is such a variety of handicrafts offered, you know there is at least one just meant for you, one that will bring out all the hidden talent you didn't suspect you possessed.

Businesswomen Plan Charter Night

Lafayette Business and Professional Women's Club members are busy today making arrangements for the Charter Night dinner to be held at El Nido on May 1 at 6:45 p.m. At this time the newly organized group will receive its official acceptance as a club in its own right and as a unit of the National Business and Professional Women's Club organization.

Plans for the affair were the main topic of discussion at the dinner meeting held at El Nido Monday evening, with Mrs. Dorothy Ter Haar, president, outlining the arrangements and assigning committees. Members were urged to invite their bosses, husbands and any friends who might wish to attend the event.

Letters of invitation are to be sent to Bay Area units, according to Mrs. Ter Haar, and there will be a number of visiting officials. A special program of entertainment will also be a feature of the gala event.

A report of attendance at the charter night dinner at Mountain View last week was made by Mrs. Ter Haar who was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Helen Haines.

Among announcements made was approach of the state conference which will be held at Santa Barbara May 18 to 21, and the biannual conference which will be held in San Francisco July 2 to July 7. Members wishing to attend the Santa Barbara session were urged to contact Mrs. Ter Haar who plans to attend the last two days. Names and addresses of members volunteering to act as pages, ushers or hostesses at the San Francisco conference should be listed with the Lafayette club president by May 1, it was announced.

Meeting time for the social sessions held the first Monday of every month was changed to 8 p.m. on a vote of the membership.

ACCIDENTS AT NIGHT

In spite of the fact that highway traffic falls off after dark, three out of five motor vehicle deaths still happen at night, warns the National Automobile Club.

Alcatraz Art to Be on Exhibit

A unique art collection will have a one-day showing tomorrow at the Craft Shop on Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette.

It is made up of 48 paintings by Federal prisoners on Alcatraz Island.

The exhibit will open at 11 a.m. and continue until 7 p.m., through courtesy of Dale King and Susan Campbell.

This uniquely-sourced collection comes here directly from its first East Bay showing, just concluded in the Centennial gallery of the Berkeley Public Library.

Its first Bay Area showing was at the Outdoor Art Show, Union Square, San Francisco, where sales exceeded pro rata, any other art group.

The men provide their own supplies and the painting is done on their leisure time, according to Warden Swope.

George Harris, former instructor at the California College of Arts and Crafts and the San Francisco Museum of Art, visits "The Rock" monthly to assist with technical instruction, an opportunity much appreciated by ambitious amateur artists imprisoned there.

GI Bill Allows Study Abroad

Veterans interested in taking courses in foreign countries during the summer session under the GI Bill of Rights can do so without having their records transferred from their VA regional office if the country of their choice is one of 14.

If the summer course is being taken in Belgium, Denmark, England, Ireland, France, Italy, Mexico, Netherlands, Northern Ireland, Norway, Scotland, Sweden, Switzerland or Wales, no transfer of records is necessary.

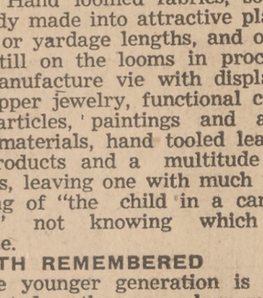
Movies Teach Church Education

Last Sunday saw a very considerable number of visitors in attendance at services in Our Savior's Lutheran Church.

This week is being observed in Protestant churches throughout the United States as Christian Education Month. At Our Savior's two sound films on Christian Education were shown at an evening service Wednesday night.

These films, produced by ELC Films in Minneapolis, Minnesota, deal with Christian Education in general, and give specific information about the junior and senior colleges of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, and also about the Church's theological seminaries in this country and Canada. Pictures from the campuses, and pictures of student life are shown. The films will be presented again at an evening meeting next Sunday, April 23.

Special attention will be given to Christian Education at next Sunday morning's worship service. Dr. Larsen's sermon at 10:45 a.m. will deal with the question: "Do I Love Christ? If so, then What?"



"May you live Happily ever after!"
